Books or T.V?

I strongly believe that books are better than T.V because they are cheaper than T.V, you can even read books when you go to bed.

Firstly I state that books are cheaper than a T.V, because T.V’s are big and cost a lot to run because of the electricity that they use but books are small and cheap. You can get more information from books than from a T.V.

Secondly I know that books are better than T.V because if people don’t know how to read you can teach them and help them to learn to read because reading is a vital skill when you get older.

Thirdly I believe more people love to read than watching T.V everyday because you can relax anywhere reading a book rather than sitting down watching boring old T.V so you should agree with me. Read a book!

Well as you can see I think that books are not only better than T.V but also much safer because little children, can chew on the parts and get hurt they will have to go to the Doctors.
